

PROCEEDINGS

There will be no written proceedings for the ICUIL 2004 meeting. HOWEVER, we will be publishing a cd-rom of the materials presented at the meeting. We ask that all attendees provide electronic versions of their presentations. The administration staff will be asking you for these files prior to the session in which you present your material. A USB flash card will be available for transfer of files from USB enabled computers. If your computer does not have a USB port, please bring a cd-rom with your presentation to the meeting. The collected electronic materials will be put onto a cd rom and then mailed to all attendees of the meeting. Furthermore, we are presently exploring the concept of adding an audio track of the speaker to the electronic versions of the oral presentations. At present this will be only be possible for those presenting in MS Powerpoint on one of the conference supplied PC or MAC computers.
